CROP PROSPECTS BEST IN 12 YEARS

THE OKLAHOMA AGRICULTURAL
BOARD SHOWS BUT LITTLE
WHEAT DAMAGE.

Season Almost Month Earlier Than Usual—Rainfall Much Below
the Average.

Guthrie, Ok., March 31.—"Reports from all counties indicate that farm conditions this year are better and more promising as a whole than they have been any season for the past twelve years."

This is the statement of the state board of agriculture in its March crop report issued today. "Prospects also are flattering for a full fruit crop," says the report.

The growing condition of winter wheat is 92.5 per cent, compared with 91.8 last month, and 78.7 for March a year ago. The report shows that only a very small percentage of the wheat crop has been abandoned because of winter killing, dry weather, late sowing and heavy pasturing, sixty-two of the seventy-two counties making returns, reporting none at all. The maximum damage, 8 per cent, is reported from Grant county, one of the leading wheat counties. Kay reports 4 per cent and Dewey 3 per cent. No damage whatever is reported to growing crops from insects.

Many Warm Days.

The report states that March presented the most favorable growing weather in years, there being little wind and many exceedingly warm days. The season is from three to four weeks earlier than common with all farm work well advanced. The rainfall for the month is reported much below the normal for the season. Soil conditions as regards moisture, however, average for the state 90.8 per cent, showing in many counties 100 per cent, twenty-one counties falling below the general average. McCurtain and Seminole, with moisture condition of 75 per cent, are lowest, while Bryan, Cimarron, Custer, Marshall, Murray, Okfuskee, Pontotoc, Roger Mills, Texas and Woodward report 100 per cent as moisture condition. In most of the counties last named seasonable rains have fallen lately, while local rains have fallen within the past two weeks in Southwestern Oklahoma, where crops were so badly damaged by drouth last year. The report states, however, that general conditions are dry with rain needed at an early date to maintain the present excellent growing condition of all crops.

Corn Is Doing Nicely.

Most corn is planted in the southern portion of the state, with much of it up and doing nicely, while in other sections corn planting is well under way with the ground in excellent condition.

The condition of alfalfa has been improved materially and is 93.8 per cent, as compared to 90.4 last month and 79.4 April 25, last year. The condition of spring pastures is 92 per cent and farm work stock 94.8, with a scarcity of feed in some localities.

Almost every county reports 100 per cent on its fruit crop, damage by winter freezing being reported only in a few counties. Much damage was done to orchards and small fruit crops by the protracted drouth of last July and August. The average condition on the principal fruit crops ranges from 96.7 to 99.2 per cent.

In conclusion the report states that the present outlook is for a record breaking production of all classes of farm products, and a very large increase in the amount of land put under cultivation in the state.

A WET ONE.

The Best Rain in Months Refreshes
Ada and Country.

Ada folks and those surrounding are rejoicing today because of the splendid rain which began falling this morning about 6 o'clock. The ground was drying out fast and crops and gardens were suffering no little, but the rain today placed a good season in the ground and vegetation is assured. Crops in the ground are assured of a good start, and prospects for a bumper crop were never brighter.

DEMOCRATS DESERTED.

Insurgents Stampede When Opportunity Comes to Re-open Tariff Question.

Washington, April 1.—With joy and alacrity, the insurgent republicans who have been talking about the in-iquities of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law
this afternoon voted against a motion, which, if adopted would have brought the whole tariff question before the House immediately. Fitzgerald of New York, the parliamentarian on the democratic side, put up a proposition which, while apparently only trying to bring up the tariff question, may have held a snare in which Fitzgerald may have hoped to catch Speaker Cannon with a view to helping the serious effort expected to be made soon to force the tariff matter to the front before the end of the session.

Fitzgerald moved, without consulting the insurgent republicans to recommit the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill to the committee on appropriations with instructions to forthwith report a measure repealing the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. The speaker ruled the motion out of order, and from that Fitzgerald appealed. That appeal was laid on the table—150 to 116.

Murdock, Norris, Haynes and other leading insurgents as joyfully voted to sustain the Payne-Aldrich law as the most ardent regulars. Even the handful of republicans, led by former Speaker J. Warrent Keifer, who voted against the bill when it was passed, went along with the regulars, Keifer furnishing the excuse for them. He said that had the Fitzgerald motion prevailed there would be no revenue law at all, so far as the house could itself legislate. He regretted, he said, that there could not have been a straight out vote on the motion to repeal, believing it would have been of campaign benefit to the republicans, because it would have been a strict free trade vote. No effort to form a coalition for the vote on the Fitzgerald motion was made.
That fact leads to the belief that the New Yorker was more intent upon getting a ruling on the question whether a motion to recommit a conference report with preemptory instructions to amend is in order than he was to get a vote on a bold proposal to repeal the tariff law with nothing to take its place. The question has never been squarely decided.
Speaker Cannon, appreciating the fact that a decision, one way or the other, was filled with infinite possibilities of trouble for the remnants of the regular organization, side-stepped the snare by saying that it was not necessary to decide it now, because, on other grounds, the Fitzgerald motion was out of order.

Had the New Yorker been able to get a decision on the question whether a motion to recommit a conference bill is or is not in order, there would probably have been a renewal of the fight on the rules, for the insurgent republicans and the democrats are intent upon a still further liberalization of the rules. The Norris resolution enlarging the committee on Rules and the precedent that resolutions proposing amendments to the rules are constitutionally privileged go into effect tomorrow, and from now on until the close of the session it is believed the house organization will have to be alert to prevent the control of the business of the house passing wholly out of its hands into those of the coalition that brought about the change in the rules

PIONEERS PROTESTED PRICES.

Old Records at Butler (Pa.) Reveal Novel Crusade Against Cost of Living in 1804.

Butler, Pa., April 1.—Records yellow with a century's age unearthed in the office of Clerk of Courts Robert
M. McFarland showed that a high cost of living crusade was in progress as early as 1804. A document filed with Judge Moore in that year
is signed by 100 citizens petitioning the court to set a stipulated price on provisions for man and horse and on liquors in the taverns of the county.

The petitions prayed for redress and asserted "it is the consensus of opinion that 25c for a meal of victuals and 12c for a half pint of whiskey is an extortion, as whiskey has been purchased for 40c a gallon; pork from 3c to 4c a pound and flour for $2 per hundred weight."

The records give no evidence as to whether the prayer, which was led by Michael Martin, was ever answered.

WOMAN FIGURED IN IT. APRIL PHOOL PARTY.

Sunrise Faculty Members Entertain
Other Faculty Members.

The Normal teachers and President
Briles were entertained in the home of Prof. E. E. Matthews Friday evening, by Profs. Matthews, Sears and Perkins. It was an April phool affair and fun was the program throughout. Each guest was made to don a dunce cap upon entering which adorned their top pieces throughout the entertainment.

Here is the invitation:
April First, will soon be here.
This of course fills all with cheer,
For then the silly pranks we play,
Brightens the memory of the day.

But this year, which is 1910,
A new life we plead with you begin,
With a penny gift of glad surprise,
Take your feet toward Sunrise.

But when there please do not stop,
Even tho you're tired enough to drop,
But pluck up courage and a good strong will,
And keep on trodding till you reach
Capitol Hill.

And when you get there just pry around,
Until Prof. Matthews' house you've found,
And then come in, but friends, beware
Solemn faces alone will be admitted there.

Please don't forget the penny gift to bring,
And we'll see that you are not left
from the ring,
For we'll all exchange for a short
time around,
And each will take home a gift good
and sound.

Please don't be early, but pray don't
be late,
And remember to come just exactly
at 8—
Don't look at the clouds and don't
mind the weather,
But come and lets all be April-fools
together.

The menu was a feature. Blue points on half shell, was small blue points in a peanut shell. Boneless turkey and light rolls were represented by a photo of a gobbler and a roll of cotton. Cambric tea was a capital T cut out of a piece of cambric cloth.

After many such disappointments to the hungry dunces, they were served with delicious refreshments. It was an enjoyable event.

30 YEARS OF SUCCESS.

The Gwin & Mays Co. Offer a Remedy for Catarrh—The Medicine Costs Nothing if It Fails.

When a medicine effects a successful treatment in a very large majority of cases, and when we offer that medicine on our own personal guarantee that it will cost the user nothing if it does not completely relieve catarrh, it is only reasonable that people should believe us, or at least put our claim to a practical test when we take all the risk. These are facts which we want the people to substantiate. We want them to try Rexall Mucu-Tone, a medicine prepared from a prescription of a physician with whom catarrh was a specialty, and who has a record of thirty years of enviable success to his record.

We receive more good reports about Rexall Mucu-Tone than we do of all other catarrh remedies sold in our store, and if more people only knew what a thoroughly dependable remedy Rexall Mucu-Tone is, it would be the only catarrh remedy we would have any demand for.

Rexall Mucu-Tone is quickly absorbed and by its therapeutic effect tends to disinfest and cleanse the entire mucous membrane tract, to destroy and remove the parasites which injure the membraneous tissues, to soothe the irritation and heal the soreness, stop the mucous discharge, build up strong, healthy tissue and relieve the blood and system of diseased matter. Its influence is toward stimulating the muco-cells, aiding digestion and improving nutrition until the whole body vibrates with healthy activity. In a comparatively short time it brings about a noticeable gain in weight, strength, good color and feeling of buoyancy.

We urge you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone, beginning a treatment today.
At any time you are not satisfied, simply come and tell us, and we will quickly return your money without question or quibble. We have Rexall Mucu-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Ada only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Gwin

HEAVY FROST KILLS FRUIT.

Kansas Apple Raiser Uses Oil Burners Trying to Save Blossoms.

Smith Center, Kas., March 31.—A heavy frost last night destroyed the biggest prospects for a fruit crop Smith Center ever had. The cold wave was preceded by a heavy wind and dust storm for two days. A Polka, the big apple raiser living a few miles northeast of this city, kept 600 burners going in his orchard of several hundred trees until 3 o'clock
a. m., until the fuel gave out and the cold got in its work.

The fruit blossoms were practically all killed. He saved his fruit a year ago by the use of burners and had over 1,200 bushels of apples to market last fall.

State Dispensary Bill.

Guthrie, Ok., April 2.—Gov. Haskell has approved or disapproved the new dispensary law passed during the special session, and which he took in his grip when leaving Guthrie for Atlanta last night, notice of the fact has not been received at either the executive office or the office of the secretary of state. The governor will not return to Guthrie until next Wednesday, and the time for considering expires at midnight April 4, after which bills all are dead unless approved. The only bill remaining un-filed is the one abolishing the state and local liquor dispensaries.

PRIZE FIGHT IN CHURCH.

Atlanta Baptist Deacons Draw Full House—Neither Lands Blow and Usual Services Proceed.

Atlanta, Ga., April 1.—Deacons of the Western Heights Baptist church have hit upon a novel plan to induce delinquent members to attend services. A prize fight was advertised to take place in the church last night,
and long before the time for the bout to begin every pew was filled. Shortly afterward two of the elders gloved for the fight. The fighters faced each other and the fight was on, but after sparring a few minutes, both failing to land a blow, the bout was declared off and the usual services held.

WOMAN FIGURED IN IT.

Senator Bilbo Testifies in Bribery Charges in Mississippi Legislature.

Jackson, Miss., April 1.—The Mississippi senate delved deep into the affairs of state senator Theodore Bilbo today. Continuing their investigation of his alleged bribery at the hands of L. C. Dulaney, the Delta planter and former member of the legislature, his fellow legislators had Bilbo relate first the circumstances of a visit he is said to have made to a questionable resort in the hope of meeting Dulaney and arranging the preliminaries of the vote sale. This occupied the entire morning session.

In the afternoon Senator Leftwich, acting as cross-examiner went back to Bilbo's college days and asked if it were not true that he was expelled from a university for cheating at an examination. The charge had been preferred, Bilbo explained, but he was exonerated. The witness admitted that at one time he was charged with the embezzlement of a small amount, but subsequently the charge was withdrawn. The questioning finally drifted to legislation in which Bilbo has taken a more or less prominent part, but without the development of material facts.

The senate was in session again tonight, and, as usual, behind locked doors.

Senator Bilbo's Story.

Senator Bilbo, in his direct evidence before the body, stated that he had arranged through a woman to have his first meeting with Dulaney at a residence in a questionable part of the city.

"Are you in the habit of frequenting such places?" asked Senator Leftwich.

Witness declared emphatically that he was not.

Senator Bilbo was next asked if Dr. Culppepper and the woman were to accompany him to the house. He replied that the woman was to go with him, but he did not intend to take the preacher along.

"Do not misunderstand me, gentlemen," remarked Senator Bilbo. "I said that Dr. Culppepper had prior knowledge that we were to go to the house, but it was not planned that he was to accompany us."

Senator Leftwich then asked how he expected Dr. Culppepper to witness the financial transactions unless he was present.

Witness gave no answer.

Resuming the questioning, Senator Leftwich asked at what hour the trip to the questionable house was to be made, and Senator Bilbo said they were going in the day time.

"Did you intend to wear a placard on your back announcing that you were going to such a house on a bribery mission?" demanded the questioner.

Senator Bilbo made no reply. He was cool and collected throughout and held his temper well.

Former Gov. Vardaman returned Thursday afternoon from a lecture tour through the northern part of the state. He has apparently taken no active part in any of the pending proceedings, although he was in conference at his residence last night with some of his political advisers.

The former governor is maintaining his determination not to discuss any phase of the pending troubles. Thus far he has not been summoned to appear before the Grand Jury, members of that body having decided not to summon any of the senatorial candidates, or to hear testimony from them unless it is voluntarily given.

"If any person knows facts concerning the senatorial contest that ought to be in possession of this body he is invited to come forward and give them without waiting for a subpoena," said Foreman J. C. Cavett.

The grand jury has taken a recess until Tuesday.

Social Events

Mrs. George Frierson was the charming hostess of the 500 Club Tuesday afternoon. The card rooms were beautifully decorated with lilacs and spring flowers. Assisting Mrs. Frierson were her mother, Mrs. Rives and Mrs. Simpson. Those enjoying Mrs. Frierson's hospitality were Mesdames LeFevre, Tobin, Austin, Mays, King, Higgins, Barney, Drummond, J. M. King, Sledge, Neathery, Creveling, Misses Downs, McAttee of Louisville, and Miss Epperson.

Mrs. C. H. Rives gave a beautiful party Thursday afternoon to the Kill Kare Klub and a few friends. Such occasions are always enjoyable in Mrs. Rives' home. 42 was the amusement for the hour and a delicious salad course was served to the Klub and invited guests: Mesdames Higgins, Frierson, Metz, R. F. King, Harris, Mays, Drummond, Kice, Duncan, Creveling, Benton of Muskogee, and Miss Torbett.

Mrs. W. C. Duncan was hostess to the 42' club Friday evening. The guests who had the pleasure of enjoying the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Duncan and the club members were: Mrs. Duncan's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Kice and Mrs. Hart.

PUBLICITY FEATURE KILLED.

To Be Left With the President and Treasurer.

Washington, April 1.—That the corporation tax law will be amended to restrict the operation of its publicity feature was virtually assured today when the house slightly amended a provision previously adopted by the Senate for that purpose.

As passed by the house today the law bearing on this subject provides "that all corporation tax returns shall be open to inspection only upon the order of the President under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the secretary of the treasury and approved by the president."

As previously provided by the senate such corporation tax reports were "to be made public when called for by resolution of the senate or house of representatives, or upon the order of the president when he deems it for the public interest."

The senate and house conferees soon will get together in an effort to agree upon a publicity amendment in which the views of both branches will be harmonized.

The consideration of this measure involved an animated discussion which consumed the entire session of the house today. Just before the subject was disposed of Mr. Fitzgerald of New York attempted to get a direct vote upon consideration with instructions for the committee on appropriations to report it with an amendment repealing the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. By a strict party vote of 150 to 116, in which the insurgents were found side by side with the regular republicans, a point of order against Mr. Fitzgerald's motion was sustained.

IT MADE A DIFFERENCE

The young woman in the pretty gown and displaying the becoming style of coiffure surveyed with some perplexity the young man who supposedly called on her because he wanted to gaze into her eyes and listen to her well-modulated voice. He was doing neither, however.

“I was just looking at the pictures,” explained the young man, earnestly. “They print such splendid views of houses sometimes. I was hunting them up.”

“Oh,” said the young man, “I’m not—just as architecture. But I was trying to see if any one had any really clever ideas, you know, as to plans. Sometimes another fellow will come out with exactly the thing you have in mind and can’t just figure out yourself.”

“Well, you see,” said the young man, “I’ve had a lot for a good long time out in a suburb and I rather thought maybe I’d put up a house on it. You can always—er—rent a house, you know. It seems to me like a good way to invest money. Doesn’t it to you?”

“Well, you’d know about a house, wouldn’t you?” asked the young man, anxiously. “Whether it was right—and all that—things a man would never think about. You see, if I put one up I don’t want it to be a failure. You could sort of advise me, couldn’t you?”

The young woman wrinkled her brow delicately and strove to appear polite. It was difficult because she was a little resentful that he had not noticed the gown she had put on especially for his benefit.

“Couldn’t you tell from the plans?” inquired the young man.

“Those things always make my head ache,” protested the young woman. “Like railway timetables and propositions in geometry, I can’t make any sense out of them! Why don’t you buy bonds or stocks or something like that? Then you won’t have to bother. Isn’t there always an awful lot of trouble about owning houses?”

“That isn’t so terribly little!” protested the young man. “There’s lots more room in a six-room house than a six-room flat, for example. Still, I don’t like that hall. I like a good-sized hall that looks inviting when you come in—don’t you?”

The young man discarded the literature. “There’s nothing in them anyhow,” he said. “That is, nothing I like any better than my own plan. You see, I’ve been sort of figuring it out in odd moments and have drawn up one of my own.” He drew a carefully folded paper from his pocket and spread it out on the table. “It’s like this—can’t you take this chair where I can explain it to you?”

The young woman came over to the table with the air of a polite martyr. “Oh, yes,” she said after a little scrutiny, “that’s very nice, I’m sure. Yes, I’d build it if I were you. I didn’t know you had a lot.”

“You don’t seem interested in my house,” said the young man in an injured tone.

“Why, yes, I am,” declared the young woman, wandering away to the other side of the room. “I had kind of hoped you would be,” went on the young man slowly, fingering his pencil nervously, “because—well, you see, Adele, I’ve been hoping for so long now, that some time—when I asked you—you’d say yes—and the little house was to be—ours, you know!”

There was a little rush and the young woman stood beside him. “Why—I didn’t know—I didn’t understand—give me those plans! Why, it’s a perfectly beautiful house!”

Whipped Cream Cakes.

A cup of sugar and two tablespoonfuls of butter creamed together. Add the beaten yolks of two eggs, four tablespoonfuls of milk, a teaspoonful of vanilla, and, finally the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Mix into a cup of flour a teaspoonful of cream of tartar and a half teaspoonful of soda. Sift the flour into the cake batter and stir lightly. Bake in a shallow pan. When the cake has cooled off spread over it half a pint of cream sweetened and whipped to a stiff froth.

When Making Doughnuts.

Doughnuts are much improved if they are coated with a layer of sugar as soon as they are taken from the stove. The best way to powder them is to put a small amount of confectioner's sugar in a paper bag and put several doughnuts in the bag at a time and then shake the bag, holding the top of the bag closed. This will coat them with sugar quickly and more evenly than any other way.

Mock Olives.

Take green plums before they begin to change color, wash and place in weak brine for 24 hours, drain and put in another brine, adding a small teaspoonful of soda to each gallon of water. Bring to a boil, when the plums will turn to an olive color. Pack at once in jars, and fill with the boiling brine brimming full, seal at once. Let stand several weeks before using.

Luncheon Dish.

CROP PROSPECTS BEST IN 12 YEARS

BOARD SHOWS BUT LITTLE
WHEAT DAMAGE.

Season Almost Month Earlier Than
the Average.

Guthrie, Ok., March 31.—Reports from all counties indicate that farm conditions this year are better and more promising as a whole than they have been any season for the past twelve years.

This is the statement of the state board of agriculture in its March crop report issued today. Prospects also are flattering for a full fruit crop, says the report.

The growing condition of winter wheat is 92.5 per cent compared with 91.8 last month, and 78.7 for March a year ago. The report shows that only a very small percentage of the wheat crop has been abandoned because of winter killing dry weather late sowing and heavy pasturing. Sixty-two or the seventy-two counties making returns reporting none at all. The maximum damage 3 per cent is reported from Grant county, one of the leading wheat counties. Kay reports 4 per cent and Dewey 1 per cent. No damage whatever is reported to growing crops from insects.

Many Warm Days.

The report states that March presented the most favorable growing weather in years, there being little wind and many exceedingly warm days. The season is from three to four weeks earlier than common with all farm work well advanced. The rainfall for the month is reported much below the normal for the season. Soil conditions as regards moisture, however, average for the state 90.8 per cent, showing in many counties 100 per cent. Twenty-one counties falling below the general average. McCurtain and Seminole with moisture condition of 75 per cent, are lowest, while Bryan, Cimarron, Custer, Marshall, Murray, Okfuskee, Pontotoc, Roger, Mills, Texas and Woodward report 100 per cent as moisture condition. In most of the counties last named seasonable rains have fallen lately while local rains have fallen within the past two weeks in Southwestern Oklahoma where crops were so badly damaged by drought last year. The report states, however, that general conditions are dry with rain needed at an early date to maintain the present excellent growing condition of all crops.

Corn Is Doing Nicely.

Most corn is planted in the southern portion of the state with much of it up and doing nicely while in other sections corn planting is well under way with the ground in excellent condition.

The condition of alfalfa has been improved materially and is 93.8 per cent as compared to 90.1 last month and 79.4 April 26 last year. The condition of spring pastures is 92 per cent and farm work stock 94.8, with a scarcity of feed in some localities.

Almost every county reports 100 per cent on its fruit crop, damage by winter freezing being reported only in a few counties. Much damage was done to orchards and small fruit crops by the protracted drought of last July and August. The average condition on the principal fruit crops ranges from 96.7 to 99.2 per cent.

In conclusion the report states that the present outlook is for a record breaking production of all classes of farm products, and a very large increase in the amount of land put under cultivation in the state.

A WET ONE.

The Best Rain in Months Refreshes
Ada and Country.

Ada folks and those surrounding are rejoicing today because of the splendid rain which began falling this morning about 6 o'clock. The ground was drying out fast and crops and gardens were suffering no little, but the rain today placed a good season in the ground and vegetation is assured. Crops in the ground are assured of a good start, and prospects for a bumper crop were never brighter.

WOMAN FIGURED IN

Senator Bilbo Testifies in Bribery Charges in Mississippi Legislature.

Jackson, Miss., April 1.—The Mississippi senate delved deep into the affairs of state senator Theodore Bilbo today. Continuing their investigation of his alleged bribery at the hands of L. C. Dulaney, the Delta planter and former member of the legislature, his fellow legislators had Bilbo relate first the circumstances of a visit he is said to have made to a questionable resort in the hope of meeting Dulaney and arranging the preliminaries of the vote sale. This occupied the entire morning session.

In the afternoon Senator Leftwich, acting as cross-examiner went back to Bilbo's college days and asked if it were not true that he was expelled from a university for cheating at an examination. The charge had been preferred, Bilbo explained, but he was exonerated. The witness admitted that at one time he was charged with the embezzlement of a small amount, but subsequently the charge was withdrawn. The questioning finally drifted to legislation in which Bilbo has taken a more or less prominent part, but without the development of material facts.

The senate was in session again tonight, and, as usual, behind locked doors.

Senator Bilbo's Story.

Senator Bilbo, in his direct evidence before the body, stated that he had arranged through a woman to have his first meeting with Dulaney at a residence in a questionable part of the city.

"Are you in the habit of frequenting such places?" asked Senator Leftwich.

Witness declared emphatically that he was not.

Senator Bilbo was next asked if Dr. Culpepper and the woman were to accompany him to the house. He replied that the woman was to go with him, but he did not intend to take the preacher along.

"Do not misunderstand me, gentlemen," remarked Senator Bilbo. "I said that Dr. Culpepper had prior knowledge that we were to go to the house, but it was not planned that he was to accompany us."

Senator Leftwich then asked how he expected Dr. Culpepper to witness the financial transactions unless he was present.

Witness gave no answer.

Resuming the questioning, Senator Leftwich asked at what hour the trip to the questionable house was to be made, and Senator Bilbo said they were going in the day time.

"Did you intend to wear a placard on your back announcing that you were going to such a house on a bribery mission?" demanded the questioner.

Senator Bilbo made no reply. He was cool and collected throughout and held his temper well.

Former Gov. Vardaman returned Thursday afternoon from a lecture tour through the northern part of the state. He has apparently taken no active part in any of the pending proceedings, although he was in conference at his residence last night with some of his political advisers.

The former governor is maintaining his determination not to discuss any phase of the pending troubles. Thus far he has not been summoned to appear before the Grand Jury, members of that body having decided not to summon any of the senatorial candidates, or to hear testimony from them unless it is voluntarily given.

"If any person knows facts concerning the senatorial contest that ought to be in possession of this body he is invited to come forward and give them without waiting for a subpoena," said Foreman J. C. Cavett.

The grand jury has taken a recess until Tuesday.

PUBLICITY FEATURE KILLED.

To Be Left With the President and Treasurer.

Washington, April 1.—That the corporation tax law will be amended to restrict the operation of its publicity feature was virtually assured today when the house slightly amended a provision previously adopted by the Senate for that purpose.

As passed by the house today the law bearing on this subject provides "that all corporation tax returns shall be open to inspection only upon the order of the President under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the secretary of the treasury and approved by the president."

As previously provided by the senate such corporation tax reports were to be made public when called for by resolution of the senate or house of representatives, or upon the order of the president when he deems it for the public interest.

The senate and house conferees soon will get together in an effort to agree upon a publicity amendment in which the views of both branches will be harmonized.

The consideration of this measure involved an animated discussion which consumed the entire session of the house today. Just before the subject was disposed of Mr. Fitzgerald of New York attempted to get a direct vote upon consideration with instructions for the committee on appropriations to report it with an amendment repealing the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. By a strict party vote of 150 to 116, in which the insurgents were found side by side with the regular republicans, a point of order against Mr. Fitzgerald's motion was sustained.

IT MADE A DIFFERENCE

The young woman in the pretty gown and displaying the becoming style of coiffure surveyed with some perplexity the young man who supposedly called on her because he wanted to gaze into her eyes and listen to her well-modulated voice. He was doing neither, however.

“Oh,” said the young man, “I’m not—just as architecture. But I was trying to see if any one had any really clever ideas, you know, as to plans. Sometimes another fellow will come out with exactly the thing you have in mind and can’t just figure out yourself.”

“Well, you see,” said the young man, “I’ve had a lot for a good long time out in a suburb and I rather thought maybe I’d put up a house on it. You can always—er—rent a house, you know. It seems to me like a good way to invest money. Doesn’t it to you?”

“Well, you’d know about a house, wouldn’t you?” asked the young man, anxiously. “Whether it was right—and all that—things a man would never think about. You see, if I put one up I don’t want it to be a failure. You could sort of advise me, couldn’t you?”

The young woman wrinkled her brow delicately and strove to appear polite. It was difficult because she was a little resentful that he had not noticed the gown she had put on especially for his benefit.

“Those things always make my head ache,” protested the young woman. “Like railway timetables and propositions in geometry, I can’t make any sense out of them! Why don’t you buy bonds or stocks or something like that? Then you won’t have to bother. Isn’t there always an awful lot of trouble about owning houses?”

“That isn’t so terribly little!” protested the young man. “There’s lots more room in a six-room house than a six-room flat, for example. Still, I don’t like that hall. I like a good-sized hall that looks inviting when you come in—don’t you?”

The young man discarded the literature. “There’s nothing in them anyhow,” he said. “That is, nothing I like any better than my own plan. You see, I’ve been sort of figuring it out in odd moments and have drawn up one of my own.” He drew a carefully folded paper from his pocket and spread it out on the table. “It’s like this—can’t you take this chair where I can explain it to you?”

The young woman came over to the table with the air of a polite martyr.

“Oh, yes,” she said after a little scrutiny, “that’s very nice, I’m sure. Yes, I’d build it if I were you. I didn’t know you had a lot.”

“Why, yes, I am,” declared the young woman, wandering away to the other side of the room.

“I had kind of hoped you would be,” went on the young man slowly, fingering his pencil nervously, “because—well, you see, Adele, I’ve been hoping for so long now, that some time—when I asked you—you’d say yes—and the little house was to be—ours, you know!”

There was a little rush and the young woman stood beside him. “Why—I didn’t know—I didn’t understand—give me those plans! Why, it’s a perfectly beautiful house!”

Whipped Cream Cakes.

A cup of sugar and two tablespoonfuls of butter creamed together. Add the beaten yolks of two eggs, four tablespoonfuls of milk, a teaspoonful of vanilla, and, finally the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Mix into a cup of flour a teaspoonful of cream of tartar and a half teaspoonful of soda. Sift the flour into the cake batter and stir lightly. Bake in a shallow pan. When the cake has cooled off spread over it half a pint of cream sweetened and whipped to a stiff froth.

When Making Doughnuts.

Doughnuts are much improved if they are coated with a layer of sugar as soon as they are taken from the stove. The best way to powder them is to put a small amount of confectioner's sugar in a paper bag and put several doughnuts in the bag at a time and then shake the bag, holding the top of the bag closed. This will coat them with sugar quickly and more evenly than any other way.

Mock Olives.

Take green plums before they begin to change color, wash and place in weak brine for 24 hours, drain and put in another brine, adding a small teaspoonful of soda to each gallon of water. Bring to a boil, when the plums will turn to an olive color. Pack at once in jars, and fill with the boiling brine brimming full, seal at once. Let stand several weeks before using.

Luncheon Dish.

Fry bacon until it is crisp, then remove from frying pan and fry cold diced potatoes until brown or raw diced potatoes until well done. Just before removing from the fire add three or four eggs and scramble all together. Serve on hot platter and garnish with parsley.

DEMOCRATS DESERTED.

Insurgents Stampede When Opportunity Comes to Re-open Tariff
Question.

Washington, April 1.—With joy and
alacrity, the insurgent republicans
who have been talking about the in-iquities of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law
this afternoon voted against a motion, which if adopted would have brought the whole tariff question before the House immediately. Fitzgerald of New York the parliamentarian
on the democratic side put up a proposition which while apparently
only trying to bring up the tariff question may have held a snare in which Fitzgerald may have hoped to catch Speaker Cannon with a view
to helping the serious effort expected to be made soon to force the
tariff matter to the front before the end of the session.
Fitzgerald moved without consulting the insurgent republicans to re-
commit the legislative executive and
judicial appropriation bill to the committee on appropriations with instructions to forthwith report a measure repealing the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. The speaker ruled the motion out of order and from that Fitzgerald appealed. That appeal was laid on the table—150 to 116.

Murdoch, Norris, Haynes and other leading insurgents as joyfully voted
to sustain the Payne-Aldrich law as
the most ardent regulars. Even the handful of republicans, led by former Speaker J. Warrent Kiefer, who voted against the bill when it was passed, went along with the regulars, Kiefer furnishing the excuse for them. He said that had the Fitzgerald motion prevailed there would be no revenue law at all, so far as the house could itself legislate. He re-
have been a straight out vote on the motion to repeal believing it would have been of campaign benefit to the republicans because it would have been a strict free trade vote. No effort to form a coalition for the vote
on the Fitzgerald motion was made.
That fact leads to the belief that
the New Yorker was more intent
upon getting a ruling on the question whether a motion to recommit a conference report with preemptory instructions to amend is in order than
he was to get a vote on a bold proposal to repeal the tariff law with nothing to take its place. The question has never been squarely decided.
Speaker Cannon appreciating the fact that a decision one way or the other was filled with infinite possibilities of trouble for the remnants
of the regular organization side-stepped
the snare by saying that it was
not necessary to decide it now because on other grounds the Fitzgerald motion was out of order.

Had the New Yorker been able to
get a decision on the question whether a motion to recommit a conference bill is or is not in order there
would probably have been a renewal
of the fight on the rules for the insurgent republicans and the democrats are intent upon a still further liberalization of the rules. The Norris resolution enlarging the committee on Rules and the precedent that resolutions proposing amendments to the rules are constitutionally privileged go into effect tomorrow and
from now on until the close of the session it is believed the house organization will have to be alert to prevent the control of the business of the house passing wholly out of its
hands into those of the coalition that brought about the change in the rules.

Ada appropriate one fourth this amount for one well?

PIONEERS PROTESTED PRICES.

Old Records at Butler (Pa.) Reveal Novel Crusade Against Cost of Living in 1804.

Butler Pa. April 1.—Records yellow with a century's age unearthed
in the office of Clerk of Courts Robert
M. McFarland showed that a high cost of living crusade was in progress as early as 1804. A document filed with Judge Moore in that year
is signed by 100 citizens petitioning
the court to set a stipulated price on provisions for man and horse and on liquors in the taverns of the county.

The petitions prayed for redress
and asserted it is the consensus of
opinion that 25c for a meal of victuals and 12c for a half pint of whiskey is an extortion as whiskey has been purchased for 40c a gallon, pork
from 3c to 4c a pound and flour for $2 per hundred weight.

The records give no evidence as to whether the prayer which was led by Michael Martin was ever answered.

APRIL PHOOL PARTY.

Sunrise Faculty Members Entertain
Other Faculty Members.

The Normal teachers and President
Briles were entertained in the home of Prof. E. E. Matthews Friday evening, by Profs. Matthews, Sears and Perkins. It was an April phool affair and fun was the program throughout. Each guest was made to don a dunce cap upon entering which
adorned their top pieces throughout
the entertainment.

Here is the invitation
April First, will soon be here,
This of course fills all with cheer,
For then the silly pranks we play,
Brightens the memory of the day.

But this year which is 1910,
A new life we plead with you begin,
With a penny gift of glad surprise,
Take your feet toward Sunrise.

But when there please do not stop
Even tho you're tired enough to drop
But pluck up courage and a good
strong will
And keep on trodding till you reach
Capitol Hill.

And when you get there just pry
around
Until Prof. Matthews house you've
found
And then come in but friends beware
Solemn faces alone will be admitted
there.

Please don't forget the penny gift to
bring
And we'll see that you are not left
from the ring
For we'll all exchange for a short
time around
And each will take home a gift good
and sound.

Please don't be early but pray don't
be late
And remember to come just exactly
at 8—
Don't look at the clouds and don't mind the weather
But come and let's all be April fools
together!

The menu was a feature. Blue
points on half shell was small blue
points in a peanut shell. Boneless turkey and light rolls were represented by a photo of a gobbler and a roll of cotton Cambric tea was a capital T cut out of a piece of cam-
bric cloth.

After many such disappointments
to the hungry dunces they were served with delicious refreshments. It was an enjoyable event.

HEAVY FROST KILLS FRUIT.

Kansas Apple Raiser Loses 800 Burners Trying to Save Blossoms.

Smith Center Kas. March 31.—A heavy frost last night destroyed the biggest prospects for a fruit crop
Smith Center ever had. The cold wave was preceded by a heavy wind and
dust storm for two days. A Polka
the big apple raiser living a few miles northeast of this city kept 600
burners going in his orchard of
several hundred trees until 3 o'clock
a.m. until the fuel gave out and the cold got in its work.

The fruit blossoms were practically all killed. He saved his fruit a year ago by the use of burners and
had over 1,200 bushels of apples to market last fall.

State Dispensary Bldg.

Guthrie Ok., April 2.—Gov. Haskell
has approved or disapproved the new dispensary law passed during the special session and which he took
in his grip when leaving Guthrie for Atlanta last night. Notice of the fact
has not been received at either the
executive office or the office of the secretary of state. The governor will not return to Guthrie until next Wednesday and the time for considering expires at midnight April 4 after

which bills all are dead unless approved. The only bill remaining un-
filed is the one abolishing the state and local liquor dispensaries.

PRIZE FIGHT IN CHURCH.

Atlanta Baptist Deacons Draw Full
House—Neither Lands Blow and
Usual Services Proceed.

Atlanta Ga. April 1.—Deacons of
the Western Heights Baptist church have hit upon a novel plan to induce delinquent members to attend services. A prize fight was advertised
to take place in the church last night
and long before the time for the bout
to begin every pew was filled. Shortly afterward two of the elders gloved
for the fight. The fighters faced each other and the fight was on but after
sparring a few minutes both failing
to land a blow the bout was declared off and the usual services held.

WOMAN FIGURED IN IT.

Senator Bilbo Testifies in Bribery Charges in Mississippi Legislature.

Jackson, Miss., April 1.—The Mississippi senate delved deep into the affairs of state senator Theodore Bilbo today. Continuing their investigation of his alleged bribery at the hands of L. C. Dulaney, the Delta planter and former member of the legislature, his fellow legislators had Bilbo relate first the circumstances of a visit he is said to have made to a questionable resort in the hope of meeting Dulaney and arranging the preliminaries of the vote sale. This occupied the entire morning session.

In the afternoon Senator Leftwich, acting as cross-examiner went back to Bilbo's college days and asked if it were not true that he was expelled from a university for cheating at an examination. The charge had been preferred, Bilbo explained, but he was exonerated. The witness admitted that at one time he was charged with the embezzlement of a small amount, but subsequently the charge was withdrawn. The questioning finally drifted to legislation in which Bilbo has taken a more or less prominent part, but without the development of material facts.

The senate was in session again tonight, and, as usual, behind locked doors.

Senator Bilbo's Story.

Senator Bilbo, in his direct evidence before the body, stated that he had arranged through a woman to have his first meeting with Dulaney at a residence in a questionable part of the city.

"Are you in the habit of frequenting such places?" asked Senator Leftwich.

Witness declared emphatically that he was not.

Senator Bilbo was next asked if Dr. Culpepper and the woman were to accompany him to the house. He replied that the woman was to go with him, but he did not intend to take the preacher along.

"Do not misunderstand me, gentlemen," remarked Senator Bilbo. "I said that Dr. Culpepper had prior knowledge that we were to go to the house, but it was not planned that he was to accompany us."

Senator Leftwich then asked how he expected Dr. Culpepper to witness the financial transactions unless he was present.

Witness gave no answer.

Resuming the questioning, Senator Leftwich asked at what hour the trip to the questionable house was to be made, and Senator Bilbo said they were going in the day time.

"Did you intend to wear a placard on your back announcing that you were going to such a house on a bribery mission?" demanded the questioner.

Senator Bilbo made no reply. He was cool and collected throughout and held his temper well.

Former Gov. Vardaman returned Thursday afternoon from a lecture tour through the northern part of the state. He has apparently taken no active part in any of the pending proceedings, although he was in conference at his residence last night with some of his political advisers.

The former governor is maintaining his determination not to discuss any phase of the pending troubles. Thus far he has not been summoned to appear before the Grand Jury, members of that body having decided not to summon any of the senatorial candidates, or to hear testimony from them unless it is voluntarily given.

"If any person knows facts concerning the senatorial contest that ought to be in possession of this body he is invited to come forward and give them without waiting for a subpoena," said Foreman J. C. Cavett.

The grand jury has taken a recess until Tuesday.

PUBLICITY FEATURE KILLED.

To Be Left With the President and Treasurer.

Washington, April 1.—That the corporation tax law will be amended to restrict the operation of its publicity feature was virtually assured today when the house slightly amended a provision previously adopted by the Senate for that purpose.

As passed by the house today the law bearing on this subject provides "that all corporation tax returns shall be open to inspection only upon the order of the President under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the secretary of the treasury and approved by the president."

As previously provided by the senate such corporation tax reports were "to be made public when called for by resolution of the senate or house of representatives, or upon the order of the president when he deems it for the public interest."

The senate and house conferees soon will get together in an effort to agree upon a publicity amendment in which the views of both branches will be harmonized.

The consideration of this measure involved an animated discussion which consumed the entire session of the house today. Just before the subject was disposed of Mr. Fitzgerald of New York attempted to get a direct vote upon consideration with instructions for the committee on appropriations to report it with an amendment repealing the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. By a strict party vote of 150 to 116, in which the insurgents were found side by side with the regular republicans, a point of order against Mr. Fitzgerald's motion was sustained.

There was a dull ache through my loins and too frequent passages of the kidney secretions caused me much annoyance.
